Database of American Golfers: Direct Mail & Email List

The Database of American Golfers represents a distinguished group of golfers that have elected to show their support of the game by being counted and registering their information at AmericanGolfCensus.com or through other NGF consumer initiatives. These golfers have specifically requested to receive communications from golf and other travel & leisure marketers and they play more annual rounds and enjoy lower scores than the national golfer sample. The list offers highly sought after list selects such as average score, annual rounds played, private club members in addition to key demographics selects including age, gender, and income.
